The 2016 Løgstrup Lecturer is Tom L. Beauchamp, Professor of Philosophy and Senior Research Scholar, Kennedy Institute of Ethics at Georgetown University.

Tom L. Beauchamp's research interests are in the ethics of human-subjects research, the ethics of animal-subjects research and human uses of animals, the place of universal principles and rights in biomedical ethics, methods of bioethics, Hume and the history of modern philosophy, and business ethics. In late 1975, he joined the staff of the National Commission for the Protection of Human Subjects of Biomedical and Behavioral Research, where he wrote the bulk of The Belmont Report (1978). He is one of three editors of the Clarendon Hume, a critical edition of the works of David Hume under continuous publication by Clarendon Press, Oxford. His publications include Philosophical Ethics (New York, 3rd edition, 2001) and Principles of Biomedical Ethics (Oxford, 7th edition, 2012, coauthor James Childress).
